

WEDDINGS at Four Corners Community Chapel

200 Angell Road, Cumberland, RI 02864 401-333-6171

We are open to all who come in the spirit of Christ, seeking a Community of Faith to support and surround them in their vows of Marriage. Weddings here at the Chapel are Worship Services to the Glory of God, in honor of those who come to commit themselves to each other and to God. Therefore, hymns, scripture, and prayer are a part of the service. Also, the vows used are pretty much the traditional ones. There is room in the service for special readings and music, subject to appropriateness. There are no pictures or videos allowed during the Service. (Restaging for pictures following the Service is suggested)

One big mistake that many people make is securing a hall for the reception before checking the availability of the Sanctuary and/or the Pastor. Pastor Jeff Crow prefers not to officiate at weddings that start after 1:00 PM on Saturday. The Pastor also does not officiate at weddings on Sunday, the Christian Sabbath. If conflicting situations arise, we will do our best to find alternate Clergy who would be willing to officiate.

Pastor Jeff makes it a practice to have a three-month period between the initial call and the wedding date. For Roman Catholics, it is six months (at least it used to be). Their “pre-Cana” is a good one, seeking to prepare the couple for their commitment.

Lastly, the Pastor will meet with anyone about their marital plans, even if he cannot officiate, and will help them all he can. Pastor Jeff has been involved with weddings for over 50 years, beginning as a ten year old, filling in as a sexton from time to time at his father’s Wedding Services. What you see here is the result of that cumulative experience. We look forward to helping you celebrate your wedding, and to supporting your marriage.

Additional Notes:

Flowers and Arrangements - It is the responsibility of the wedding couple to arrange for floral deliveries to the Chapel. Florists can call ahead to make sure the building is open. Bows on the ends of pews are to be attached with ribbons, ties, clips or bands, NO adhesives. We do not allow confetti/rice to be thrown.

Music- All music arrangements must be made through the Chapel Organist, Vance Westgate, well in advance of the wedding date. Mr. Westgate will meet the couple at his convenience (if necessary).
